HOW DO THE COVID-19 VACCINES WORK?

The vaccine teaches your body's immune system to build antibodies that will recognize and fight the virus. The MRNA vaccines specifically teach cells how to recognize the spike protein of the virus that causes COVID-19 and activate an immune response to fight it off.

This means that the COVID-19 vaccines cannot affect or interact with our DNA in any way. They also will not cause sterility or infect you with COVID-19.
